ABOUT

Gil Corber is a veteran real estate broker specializing in the California, New York, and Barbados markets. For over 20 years, Gil has developed a strong reputation for accomplishing what other real estate professionals struggle to achieve.

Unable to sell your million dollar listing in time? Waiting too long to buy the home of your dreams? Gil hurdles through all the obstacles and guides his clients towards a successful sale or purchase using his expertise in both standard and specialized real estate properties.

He has facilitated numerous deals involving investment properties, gated community golf homes, vacation townhouses, beachfront and lakefront lands, ranches, single family homes, luxury multi-unit residential properties, and more.

Aside from being a seasoned real estate expert, Gil is also an established music industry executive, having managed Major Records Entertainment, LLC and Consulted for Warner Music, Sony Music, Universal Music and Saban Music Group. Gil's works are published by Kobalt Music.

His customer service and problem solving skills he learned from the entertainment industry, as well as his extensive professional network, help him navigate the world of real estate and ensure that his clients expectations are always met.
